Regarding Kristi Durschmidt

My name is Cathy Meadows and I've been working with Kristi Durschmidt for 3 years in the realm of psychology. Kristi has always been out-going and friendly and I have never sensed any kind of depression nor mania. Nor have I sensed any type of psychological disorder that would make it impossible for her to drive a vehicle.

Kristi is very highly educated and is self sufficient, and cares for herself very well. She owns her own house and takes good care of her property, which is something you wouldn't see in a severely mentally ill person.

She is in good standing with me and I have never sensed any misplaced anger coming from her. She has her good days and bad days like everyone else.

I understand that there is some concern that she may be delusional and paranoid but I don't think this is necessarily the case. I think that she is somewhat guarded due to the harassment that she has been through but she is standing up well through it all. Also, she has met people on the internet, who I don't work with, that have worked with her, but this shouldn't shadow her basic psychological environment.

I believe that Kristi is fully capable of operating a vehicle and rarely has any problems doing so.

Thank you for your interest and if you have any questions please feel free to contact me at any time.
