Apparently, the Epstein Files confirm the Targeted Individual program, which uses neuroweapons and V2K (voice-to-skull technology) to harass its victims. This idea used to be considered a conspiracy theory attributed to mental illness or paranoia.
H.A.A.R.P. (High-Frequency Active Auroral Research Program) transmitters are used to generate Extremely Low Frequency (ELF) and Very Low Frequency (VLF) waves via modulated ionospheric and magnetospheric heating.
Researchers at a university in Maranhão, Brazil, concluded that this can cause earthquakes, cyclones, and strong storms.
