Coburg mobile phone appeal:

Homepage of the Coburg Mobile Communications Citizens' Initiatives.

A group of doctors from Coburg and the surrounding area has come together under the influence of recent research findings on mobile communications. The doctors in this group are deeply concerned about the health effects of mobile communications technology in its current form.

A number of complaints are associated with electromagnetic radiation. These include, in particular:

- Difficulty concentrating,
- Difficulty falling asleep and staying asleep,
- Tinnitus and hearing disorders,
- Dizziness and headaches,
- depressive mood,
- Exhaustion and irritability
- Hyperactivity and learning disorders in children

Doctors also fear that the drastic increase in cancer rates is also due to electrosmog.

This has led to the formulation of a series of demands:

- Massive reduction of current limits for electromagnetic radiation
- Consideration of medical studies in the expansion of mobile communications technology
- Obligation to educate children about mobile/DECT phones
- Revision of the DECT standard
