Brief Comment

I am a victim of a 4G/5G "small cell" tower right in front of my home. Since the cell tower was installed in July 2018 my health continues to suffer and I am a prisoner in my own home of 50 years. I can't afford to move. I can't be in many of my rooms at all, perform my daily activities, work in my yard, visit with neighbors due to the significant levels of radio frequency radiation INSIDE my home since the cell tower was installed. I have no way to turn it off so that I can be comfortable in my own home. As the traffic picks up in the morning and the radiation level increases I am awakened and must leave my own bedroom as I can't bear how sick it makes me feel. When I go to certain areas of my home further from the cell tower I start to feel better. This is a violation of human rights, it's unethical and completely irresponsible of the FCC to allow the telecommunication companies to allow this. The mere fact that you want to approve even higher levels of RFR is unthinkable. It is time for the FCC to have some integrity and actually regulate the wireless industry instead allowing them to roll out any technology they want without any proper safety measures. The mere fact that you don't have relevant safety guidelines (should be scientifically proven biological effects vs. 24 year old acute thermal heating limit) is a clear sign that the public is not at all in your best interests. Do not move forward with this proposal, it's time for you to establish actual safety measures to protect the U.S. citizens. My health and the health of all of us depends on it, and you will be held liable.
