

I am Margaret Jordan and I live at 5130 Old Tunnel Hill Rd. Cohutta, GA 30710 Phone 706-694-8516. Email: Yisraelite4Yahshua@gmail.com I am a Medical Assistant and I have worked as a care giver for a number of years. I also worked as a part time lay counselor. I was trained at Caring for the Heart Ministries in Colorado Springs, Colorado. I am not able to work now.

I used my Verizon cell phone (flip hone) for 16 years. Then in early April 2017 we were going on a family vacation and would be gone for 10 days. A day or two before leaving I noticed that I had a lot of pain on the left side of my face. I thought I was my teeth. I called my dentist and found that he was out of town, so I just went on vacation and prayed that it would not get too bad. During the 10 days I did not have a need to talk on my phone and by the time I got home the pain was gone. When I arrived back at home I resumed my constant use of the cell phone. We also had in our home WiFi, and a cordless home phone. With in a short time the pain came back. I was checking my email and someone sent me some information by Lloyd Burrell at www.electricsesne.com. I began reading the information and decided that my cell phone might be the cause of my pain. I stopped using my cell phone and the pain went away again. I have not used my cell phone except for a minute here and there when very necessary since that time. We also stopped using the WiFi, and purchased a corded home phone.

I had another problem that I did not know where it was coming from. My right arm hurt in the shoulder and sometime it would feel like an electric shock going down my arm. I had been wondering what the cause was for months. I was not able to take occasional care giving jobs because it hurt too bad. After the WiFi was gone and the cordless phone was replaced with a corded one I was able to notice when my arm hurt and when it felt better, and that it was at times where I had been exposed to microwaves that it hurt. At our congregation my husband asked everyone to turn their cell phones on airplane mode or turn them off while in the building. I found that if one person kept their cell phone on I could feel it. I later purchased a meter and that helped others see what I was talking about. My arm is almost pain free when I am at home, but it can get painful when I go shopping or any place that takes me where there are cell tower and people with cell phones which is pretty much everywhere. The best it has ever felt since April was on a back pack trip and for a little while after. I could dance with my arm in the air with no pain!

I now know that I have microwave sickness and these are the other problems that I have, memory loss, jaw tension, fatigue, and tinnitus (ringing ears) some times very loud. I can tell it more when I have been to town.

We live in the country and do not have a Smart Meter. The electric company did put one on our house and I found that I was not feeling good, so I asked them to bring our old one back and they did! That was at least 2 or 3 years ago. We have to pay $40 month for the meter reader to come and read our meter. I think that is a lot, but I never want a Smart Meter especially now that I have microwave sickness.

I want to please with those who can make a difference, please NO 5G! People like me will be in a world of hurt. I would not be able to tolerate going to town. It is hard enough now! This is real!

Sincerely yours,

Margaret Jordan
