Wireless Health Effects: I started feeling symptoms at the age of 43. Sinus/brain pressure, spikes to the brain, muscle cramps, shortness of breathe like there is no oxygen in the air, eye/ear pain, severe headaches, chronic insomnia, nervousness/agitation/flight or fight, muscle tension, bone pain, weakness, drugged like fatigue or hyperactivity/panic, cognitive stress/confusion/dementia like, racing heart/palpitations, nausea, bloody nose/ears.

I was here when they installed the smart meters. There was no other explanation for the symptoms, for the dead bats all over the yard, and ringing in my ears all happening at once. All symptoms at first disappeared when I left the apartment. I could hardly believe it myself when I googled "electric meter making me sick?" and found people all over the WORLD reporting harm. Along with increasing reactions to chemicals I was reacting more and more to cell phones, Wi-Fi, non-natural lights - then foods became intolerable, being near my refrigerator made me worse, people's clothing smell from detergents and fabric chemicals. I've spent entire days airing my apartment out from someone briefly visiting with fragrance on them. The symptoms just keep escalating, and the exposures keep increasing. I had no idea this stuff wasn't safe before smart meters came and destroyed me and would have never believed a freaking electric meter could be used to torture someone and cause life long damage. I used to be comfortable with Wi-Fi next door and cell phones in the home. Not now, I am damaged for life. I can't believe I never heard of this until I got it. So much research exists!

Wireless technology has affected my life: Everything is destroyed. Personality is irritable, tired, confused, agitated, tense, nervous and panicked. If I travel anywhere it means more exposure. I'm being held hostage by the smart grid and chemical smells. No homes are free of smart meters. Everyone has devices strapped to them that harm me. Can't go to "institutions" or hospitals, they all have Wi-Fi and endocrine disrupters galore. Off grid life will be my only hope to survive. No chance of ever working my way out of poverty to buy an actual home where I can control my environment. Renting means concentrated exposures, especially pesticides/lawn chemicals. Growing my own food helped for 4 years, but the apartment manager destroyed the garden 3 years back. So it's chemical food or starvation for me. No one believes my condition because the government and TV tell them "it's safe". I am treated like a nut case by everyone, professionals and others. I am told to "get help" when there is no such thing. Lonely and dark is my condition, I had every tooth in my mouth removed to stop the sensation of electricity and shocks. I look as hideous as I feel. Chloramines so strong in water here can't bathe but weekly.

Everyone's wearing endocrine disrupters/ packing wireless devices. Stores all have air fresheners in restrooms, hospitals have Wi-Fi and so do public buildings. I have not slept for 6-7 years now; my brain isn't working. There are no payphones or landlines here. I can't even call a suicide hotline much less family or any agency to beg them to help me get this transmitter off of my apartment. My pets are dying one by one. My property management lawyers see me as liability now so they've been active in adding continuous stress to push me out. Prison is next I suppose. I exist on poverty programs that barely allow for food. I am held hostage in a tiny Wi-Fi-ed apartment surrounded by high voltage transients from the smart meters, microwave oven radiation, smartphones, Wi-Fi routers, and game systems coming through all walls. My living space is a mess, I'm a mess, not really good company. I'm watching all life die here, as antennas are continuously being added, and the misinformed blame "climate change". Bats dropped dead, frogs disappeared, trees dead and falling more antenna on the way. No one profiting from this is doing research. My family thinks "if it were dangerous they wouldn't be allowed to do it".

Concerns about the future: Once you get this damage, your life is over, all of it. OFFICIALS: this is willful ignorance, and criminal. Deploying ANY manmade tech in EVERY environment is the most irresponsible idea ever. And then placing the burden of proof on those you have been harmed?? Inexcusable. Want to accuse your victims of being a psychological?? Tell that to the frogs, bats and bees that are pretty much extinct here upon smart grid deployment. I WATCHED IT FIRST HAND. 80% of bird species are now gone from here since. Insects are disappearing, only ants, wasps, and mosquitos remain. OPEN UP OUR PUBLIC LANDS to us.
