Occupation: My name is Karen-Lynn Siperstein. I am a teacher of early age students. Wireless technology has had a negative effect on me.

Wireless Health Effects: Ten years ago, I worked in a daycare where I had to use a microwave oven to heat up individual children's lunches. After four years, I was diagnosed with breast cancer. I am convinced that it was due to my exposure to the radiation. My memory has also been greatly impaired due to exposure to wireless technology. In fact, I notice a greater loss for words when I go into homes and establishments that have WIFI. My friends and family members who use wireless technology on a daily basis also have impaired memory loss. Sadly, my thirty-two-year-old relative has difficulty recalling a phone conversation minutes after completion

Concerns about the future:
As a teacher, I am greatly concerned about my students as they are exposed to wireless technology and WIFI daily. It is interesting to note that other countries have banned WIFI in their schools because of the evidence that proves the negative effects on children's brains! There have been numerous studies done proving the many adverse effects of EMF's from microwaves, cell phones, smart meters, etc.

5G small cell antennas would emit an even higher frequency; thereby resulting in even more harmful reactions to ALL beings on the planet. I am very concerned about the future. Sadly, the majority of people are ignorant to the detriments of 5G small cell antennas to their overall health. It is my hope in writing this letter that it will be added to other testimonials urging the higher powers to be a voice in advocating that 5G small antennas be prevented from being installed.
